TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Norway evidence—doubly proven.

E. C. Libby, Sanborn St., Norway, says: "I had a great deal of backache which annoyed me to do anything. My head ached and I noticed specks floating before my eyes and my sight blurred. I used different remedies but it was left to Doan's Pills to give me lasting results. I got Doan's at Stone's Drug Store and since using them I have had no return of kidney complaint." (Statement given June 6, 1916.)

On September 3, 1920, Mr. Libby said: "I haven't had occasion to use Doan's Pills or any other kidney medicine since being cured by Doan's. My faith in this remedy is just as strong as ever."

FITTING UP FOR WINTER

By Fred M. Davis

Written for the Norway Advertiser

I'm fitting up for winter.

For that cold and dreary day

When folks go shivering down the street

And snowflakes round them play.

When the stormy blast of winter

Makes you have to sneeze and cough,

When the frost is in the gutter

And the ice is in the trough.

When the sheep bleat a half-tone

When I hear the cattle call,

When the house-cat on the hearthstone

Rolls herself up like a ball.

The time when north winds blow in gales

That makes the chimney roar,

The day when I will swing the flail

Upon the old barn floor.

The day when snowdrifts play their pranks

On house-top, ash and eve.

The day when I'll be giving thanks

For blessings I receive.

When I'll have money in my genes

And good hay in the mow,

That reaches high above the beams

To feed each horse and cow.

With the lanterns burning dimly

As they hang there on the nails,

I'll watch the smoky chimney

While the milk goes in the pails.

When I'll hear the "windmills" rattle

When skies are cold and gray,

I'll card my horse and cattle

And watch them eating hay.

When the open fire crackles

When the nights are long and cold,

When you sit there munching apples,

Papers read and stories told.

While southern brooks are running

I'll whistle some old tune

And think of days that are coming

When flowers are in bloom.

When cattle will be waiting

Close beside the pasture bars,

Like an Arab and his camel

Underneath the desert stars.

I'll see them in my magazines

The flowers down the lane,

I'll snore and dream of summer scenes,

When robins sing again.

When old Brindle sheds her hair

I'll look for snows and frosts

While I blow bug-death through the air

To kill the pesky flies.

With the fire-blinking higher

And the good things live in store,

The old world will seem brighter

Than it ever did before.

I'm fitting up for winter.

When we have to wheeze and cough,

When the frost is in the gutter

And the ice is in the trough.

TO THE ABSENT ONE

The merry breeze that once with the leaves

Sang a joyous happy refrain,

In the land of the vine, the olive

Now sings in a minor strain.

The autumn sun, when the day is done

Seems to shadow a vacant chair,

And the porch with the vines

In the land of the pines

Is ever calling you there.

DURELL HAYDEN HUBBELL.

Take No Thought saving, What shall we eat?

What shall we drink? or Wherein shall we be clothed?

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness: and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matthew 6:31, 32.

Norway and Vicinity

Norway With World Fliers

Bradley Willis, of the Academy, 220, U. S. N. Elec. School, 21, son of Mrs. S. I. Jackson, Green Elms Norway, is one of the electricians on the U. S. Crusier Raleigh of the conveying squadron with the American Army World Fliers at Reykjavik, Iceland. The Raleigh is practically an all steel ship, bronze and copper being used where steel is not feasible. She is a net work of wires covered with webs of wireless, headed with hundreds of insulators. She can "speak" 4000 miles. She is equipped with a catapult to shoot an airplane from a platform amid ships, out over the water at a high rate of speed. She is 550 ft. long, 55 ft. wide and looks head-on like a towering flat iron building, and generates 1,500,000 lbs. of steam an hour or 265 lbs. to the sq. in. of her 65 miles of steel tubing.

The Raleigh by means of her two scout planes can search for a safe landing along the Greenland coast for the world fliers and can take extra supplies of fuel to them for the next lap if need be, as well as cruise for safe harbor for regular supply ships of the squadron.

The ship left last July for across the water stopping at Norway, Denmark, and Sweden.

This is Mr. Willis 2nd cruise across to these points, the first being on the battleship, Florida. He likes the new queen cruiser very much and doesn't regret his second enlistment in U. S. N. It is a continual education, with pleasurable sight seeing along with interesting occupation at the wonderful machines of electricity.

The Raleigh proceeding cautiously through dense fog toward the west coast of Greenland in search of a safe landing place for the World Fliers, and ice-free harbor for the squadron, on Aug. 10th ran into a small drift of ice for the first time.

Band Reunion at Crystal Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knapp of Dry Mills entertained twenty-two members of the Norway Paris band and their families Sunday, at Crystal Lake near the Knapp home.

A fine banquet was served in the dining hall followed by speech making with Mr. Knapp as toastmaster. Frank Kimball expressed appreciation of the kindness and thoughtfulness of Mr. and Mrs. Knapp in gathering the players together for a quiet social meeting, for a better acquaintance and lasting friendship.

At a suggestion of Mr. Knapp the members voted to continue these gatherings as an annual event and formed an Association for that purpose. Frank P. Knapp was unanimously chosen president and Ray Eastman, secretary.

After the more formal part of the exercises, the boys assembled for a band concert and spent the remainder of the afternoon playing selections and handling concert numbers, to the enjoyment of outsiders spending the day at the lake.

"One of the best times we have ever had" is the general verdict. Mrs. Knapp proved a royal hostess. She left not one thing out of the plans which developed for the comfort and entertainment of the guests. It surely was a large family gathering.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

The people of Norway and vicinity are again enjoying the Chautauqua program which, during the past few seasons, has become so popular.

Herein is presented an opportunity for Norway and South Paris people to enjoy a week of true talent which will benefit them in a range of knowledge.

The basis on which the Chautauqua was founded, at Lake Chautauqua in New York state, was that the people who were in search of the highest character of entertainment, could go to one place and find it. The talent of the world was gathered, and concentrated into a program which would interest and inform those who desired that kind of entertainment.

Then, a few years later, there were those people who realized that people the country over could not spend the time to go to a distant place to learn, and to be entertained, and by careful planning, they arranged a series of programs which could be conducted simultaneously throughout a district. By so doing, they could give the people of less means, an opportunity to hear and be entertained by the same fine talent.

Thus the Norway and South Paris people are afforded an opportunity to attend most interesting performances and lectures.

Kiwanis Club

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club, August 14th, was held at the Odd Fellows Hall, South Paris. The music committee had charge of the program.

The meeting on August 21st was held at the American Legion Hall, Norway, the speaker for the day being A. D. Ladd of Akron, Ohio. Mr. Ladd is a Past President Kiwanian and is a very interesting speaker. He is the superintendent of the Community Chautauqua in charge of the Fair Grounds this week. The dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Greenleaf.

On Thursday evening, Aug. 28, Charter night will be observed at the Norway Grange Hall, in form of Ladies' Night. Supper will be served at 7 o'clock followed by a talk, music, dancing and cards.

A lime spreader is doing the job.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Olmstead, daughter, Fautina, and their son Mr. and Mrs. Perley Olmstead of Canton have been visiting their brothers W. J. Olmstead and F. A. Olmstead. They visited some of the beautiful scenic places nearby and a fine time was enjoyed by all.

OF INTEREST TO POULTRY RAISERS

Everyone who keeps hens knows that all do not lay the same number of eggs but many poultrymen have not noticed that there is a considerable difference in the external characteristics of a hen which has laid well and one which has not. These differences are especially true during the summer and fall months after a hen has passed through the laying year. Based upon these differences it is not difficult to pick out the high producers from the low producers during the summer and fall months. This is what the Agricultural Extension Service of the College of Agriculture taught 381 people at 48 demonstrations last year. Through the local committees of the Farm Bureau arrangements were made for a demonstration to be held at the home of a poultryman in the community. Using the hens from this poultryman's flock the county agent explained and showed those present the points indicating high production and those indicating low production. Following this instruction those present assisted the county agent in picking out the highest producing hens to be kept over the next year to breed from.

If any progress is to be made in increasing the egg production of a flock, first of all attention must be given to the egg production of the hens used as breeders. It is not possible for the average farmer to trap nest his hens but considerable improvement can be made without trap nesting if careful attention will only be given to the selection of the hens used as breeders. The difference between a high producing hen and a low producing hen is very obvious when the points to look for are once learned and a few minutes time spent at one of these demonstrations will well repay any poultryman who wants to improve the quality of his flock. A large number of breeders of broilers have been arranged in the various communities.

The dates and places of these meetings will be announced by the county agents and the poultry committees of the Farm Bureau.

LET THEM PLAY HOUSE

Why wait till mother is sick in bed? Why cramp the natural desire of every growing child to "play house?" Children never tire of playing they are father and mother and even the older ones enjoy a bit of responsibility. These natural instincts can be used in any family with growing children to give mother a holiday now and then, something that too few farm women enjoy. It's all in the spirit of the thing. Washing dishes and making beds can be a dreary task or it can be a delightful game. The children will be sure to see the fun in the thing right off; the hard part of it is for mother to recognize and play up to their useful viewpoint and to realize that the part of the younger members of the family will more than make up for a few scorched dishes or little dresses buttoned up wrong in back.

SUMMER HOTEL BUSINESS

The proprietors of summer hotels in the White Mountains and at some of the resorts in Maine are said to be complaining because the business this year is not up to the average. The number of guests in some of these resorts is much smaller than has been the case for some years. This is said to be due to poor business conditions throughout the country and to the fact that fewer people think they can afford to pass their vacations in the resorts where they have been accustomed to go.

But observations of conditions which exist would seem to show that the summer hotels, like many other things, are confronting changed conditions. The tourist business, along with every highway which is much followed by automobile tourists are to be seen signs in front of large and comfortable looking farmhouses announcing "Auto parties accommodated." In some places almost every house along the way is displaying such signs. It is evident that many of them they would not go to the trouble of making such announcements. These wayside inns, if they can be so designated, must be taking away considerable business for the regular summer hotels.

Then the automobile camping parties are also affecting the regular hotels. Such parties are to be encountered everywhere. It cannot be said that the people who are camping out as they tour about the country are not of the class who generally patronize the hotels because many of these campers are well to do and are possessed of sufficient means to pay their bills anywhere. Automobile touring in this way may be a fad but it is annually attracting more and more people. Some of the equipment which these tourists carry about is very elaborate and must have been very costly. These tourists prefer life in the open in this way rather than staying at hotels and of course the hotels must feel it to some extent.

Then, too, the length of time that hotel guests remain in one place is very brief compared with a few years ago. Many people now use automobiles exclusively to journey to and from their homes. They are not content to remain in any one place longer than a day or two, providing the weather permits them to move. They play golf here today and tomorrow go somewhere else to play golf. They patronize the hotels but not for very long in any one place. All of this has cut into the hotel business a great deal and it accounts for the fact that the hotel men say that business is not as good as it was a few years ago. More over these changes are becoming more pronounced and noticeable every year and there is no prospect that they will be much different in the immediate future.

NEW ENGLAND PRODUCTS

On September 15th, New England Week will start. For one week, New England manufacturers, retailers and individuals who are interested in the progress of this part of the country will exploit the products which are manufactured within its boundaries. This is all very nice, but why not exploit these products week in and week out, year in and year out.

Some of the finest merchandise made in the world today comes from New England. The finest craftsmanship in the world is found in New England. The finest products of the world are the result of New England ingenuity and effort.

New England was the first section of the United States which was actually populated by an intelligent people. And this knowledge and intelligence has spread to the four corners of the earth to promote other regions.

New England has been, is now, and always will be the center for ambitious, competent, interested and progressive workmanship.

Nationally known products are made here. Things which we do not know—and we should. It means our bread and butter. It means our future prosperity.

Let us list a few: Nashua Blankets, street cars, Amoskeag linens; Derry mattresses, Dennison products, Gilbert toys, Ingersoll watches, Indian motorcycles, Hayward-Walshfield baby carriages, Babcock printing presses, Draper & Maynard Athletic goods, McElwain and many other makes of shoes, International Newspaper, Fuller brushes, Carter's knit underwear—yes, we could go on and list thousands of products.

If you and I would boost our own business, we would lend our efforts toward the progress and prosperity of New England, we would place our own efforts back of New England products. We would make it possible for New England products to be sold in larger quantities and New England's prosperity would be assured.

REMEDY MOTOR LAW

Belief that Maine's motor registration laws as applied to out-of-state tourists remain in the State during the summer season for more than 30 days should be modified either by extending the time limit or by making the fee smaller and rated in proportion to the amount of time spent in Maine, has been expressed by officials of the Publicity Bureau.

Present, out-of-state tourists who come to Maine in the vacation season may remain here for 30 days without taking State registration for their cars. After the 30 day period, however, they must pay full fees for their registration in the State, the same fees that year round residents of Maine pay.

This condition has brought many complaints from the outside visitors and has caused a large number to leave the State earlier than they would otherwise have done, rather than pay what they claim as exorbitant registration charges for a short time in the summer season.

The matter, in the belief of the Publicity Bureau officials, is one that should be brought before the next Legislature for modification of existing statutes.

FRYEBURG

Charles Family Reunion
The Charles Family Reunion was held Saturday, August 16, 1924, at Fryeburg, K. of P. Hall. About 100 present from babies to ladies and gents nearing the century mark. Relatives were present from various parts of Maine, including Portland, Harrison, Bridgton, Gorham, Summer, Norway, South Paris, Fryeburg, etc. Many out of state relatives were also in attendance, including some from Connecticut and a goodly number from New Hampshire.

A bountiful dinner was served at noon consisting of baked beans, salads, brown and white bread, assorted cakes, custard pie, ice cream and coffee, to which all did full justice. The time before dinner was spent in renewing old acquaintances. After dinner all gathered in the hall up stairs where Pres. Leon Charles called the meeting to order. Report of last year's meeting held with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Charles at Stow was read and approved, after which the officers were elected. Quite a laughable discussion was held before a president was secured.

While Thomas Charles was down stairs enjoying his after dinner smoke, he was elected to that office. Upon his return, his better half so informed him, he appreciated the honor, but declined in favor of David Charles, who at first declined but after "the little coaxing," that was all that was necessary, according to Thomas Charles. Bro. David reconsidered and accepted.

A cordial invitation was received from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emery of West Poland to meet with them next year, but it was deemed best to decline on account of its being too far for the older members to attend, so a letter of appreciation was sent to them.

The usual collection was taken by Arthur and Stanley Walker of Norway, amounting to $18.23, to defray the expenses of the meeting. Some $43.00 was reported in the treasury.

Noted to hold meeting at K. of P. Hall the 3rd Saturday in August, 1925, at Fryeburg.

A most beautiful memorial service was held for the five who have died during the past year. This service was followed by a general program consisting of solos, toe dancing by the children and singing by the crowd. Accompaniment was on the piano, assisted by a Victrola. The speaker engaged for the occasion was unable to be present, much to the disappointment of all. Opening the register for signatures was one of the

Electric Cookery is Better Cookery

"I Am Proud of My Cooking"

"Yes, doesn't that roast look delicious. It is, too, I know from experience that roasts, cooked in my electric range, will be tender, juicy and full flavored. I never have stringy, tasteless roasts now."

"You see, the oven is almost air tight. This prevents evaporation, keeps the meats tender and juicy and eliminates basting."

"The oven walls are insulated so that all of the heat stays in the oven. None is wasted. Then, too, the heat is so even and steady that I always have good results; my cakes and bread are lighter and finer; they are more moist, too, which makes them last longer."

"But best of all I get the same results day after day. It is a real joy to cook when you can feel that everything will come out of the oven just as you want it."

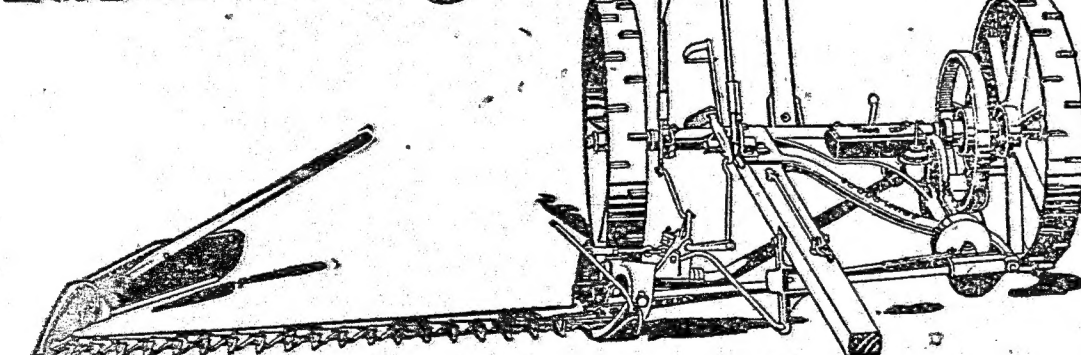

It is Cheaper, Too

"Yes, it really is cheaper to cook electrically. Because the oven walls are insulated, I can cook for a long time on stored heat. That advantage, together with the 3c cooking rate that we get saves 1-3 on our fuel bill."

Cuts Better Lasts Longer

You will appreciate the John Deere Mower the moment you see it in action. You will notice particularly its simplicity, its great cutting power and the ease with which it is handled. These advantages, combined with the extra years of service it gives, makes the John Deere a mighty profitable mower investment.

JOHN DEERE MOWER The Mower with the Balanced Gears

The driving gears on the John Deere are balanced—one set offsets the thrust of the other set. This eliminates side wear and strain. This mower transmits maximum power to the high grade carefully-fitted knife—that's why the John Deere does a better job of cutting and pulls lighter.

The flexibility of the cutter bar on the John Deere fits it for use in rough, uneven fields or for weed-cutting on roadsides—this feature you will like.

SIZES: John Deere No. 1 regular frame mower—3½, 4½ and 5-ft. cut. John Deere No. 2 big frame mower for severe cutting and field conditions—4½, 5, 6 and 7-ft. cut.

Another feature—if after years of use, lag develops in the cutter bar, this can be taken out—the bar is aligned by a simple eccentric adjustment. The John Deere handles easily. The bar can be raised high with the foot lever to pass over ordinary obstructions. With the hand lever an extremely high lift can be secured quickly and easily.

It's no job to keep the John Deere in good running order. All parts are easily replaced; adjustments easily made—its simplicity is a real feature.

Be sure to see this mower before you buy. It's the best mower we have ever seen.

U.S. Royal Cords

BALLOON ~ BALLOON-TYPE ~ HIGH PRESSURE
Built of Latex-treated Cords

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

ALBANY

Hunt's Corner and Vicinity

Miss Anna K. Cummings, who has been guest of her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Bean went to Newry Friday, where she will visit friends and relatives from there she will go to Canville to visit her sister, Mrs. Ella Gould.

Guy Johnson of Haverhill and mother, Mrs. Inez Bean with Mrs. Amos Bean and daughter were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. William Adams went to Portland Saturday with Mrs. Ives, returning the same day.

Miss Blanche Emery took dinner with Mrs. Abel Andrews, Sunday and attended the afternoon Sunday School, which is interesting, especially now that nearly all the children in town attend.

At the morning service at the Albany Church of Christ, Mrs. Ives preached on the text, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God." Mrs. Ives spoke of the impetuous, erring Peter, who was chosen by Jesus to be among the disciples. She showed the indecision and doubt through which Jesus led Peter until at last his loyalty was purified and Peter gladly was burned at the stake for his Christ. All this proved that Jesus founded his church then, not on perfect human beings, but on men who knew in their hearts a love and loyalty to Him. Jesus calls men into his church now as of old. Church membership is but the beginning of the soul's desire to find God. It is the vow of loyalty to the living God in Christ.

The Boys' Club was organized Monday evening to develop patriotic, Christian manhood among the boys of Albany.

Philip A. Becker was unanimously elected President of the club, and John H. Stevens was unanimously elected secretary.

Rev. J. Harrison Thompson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Portland, gave an inspiring talk to the boys, after which there was singing.

On August 31st the church will be privileged to hear Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt, D. D., pastor of the Harvard Church of Brookline, Mass., one of the outstanding preachers of New England. Dr. Leavitt will conduct the morning service which will include the baptism of children and the presentation of Bibles to all children seven years of age who attend the Sabbath School. The reception into the church of new members will be followed by the communion service.

The Question of Water for Your Country Home

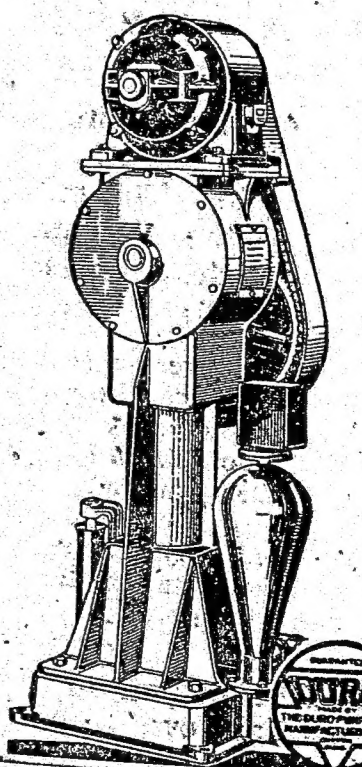

In planning your country home nothing is quite so important as the question of water.

Formerly it was considered sufficient for the farm or country home to have a hand pump or windmill. But now the hand pump and windmill are as obsolete as the old unsanitary outhouse or chemical toilet.

DURO Water Systems

"Just Like City Water Service"

made in many sizes and styles, enable any home anywhere, to have running water under pressure, all over the house, just like city water service.

Duro systems can be used with deep wells, shallow wells, cisterns or springs. They may be driven from high line current, farm light plant or gasoline engine.

A Duro system is a sound investment—it lessens labor and promotes health and cleanliness. It replaces drudgery and despair with comfort and happiness. And it is also a permanent improvement that adds to the value of your property.

Have your architect or builder ask for an estimate. Specify Duro.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Mrs. Josephine Bates Several old neighbors and friends went to South Paris, Monday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Josephine Augusta Thayer Bates who died Friday at the home of Charles Edwards, where she had been boarding most of the time the past year. Mrs. Bates' home has been here for the past twenty years. Her husband, Frank Bates died about sixteen years ago. They had formerly lived in New Haven, Conn. and came here to live with Mr. Bates sister, Julia. Soon after Mr. Bates' death, Mrs. Bates sold her home and went to live with her only son, Charles Bates. Mrs. Bates' native home was Paris Hill and she was born 84 years ago. She has one brother, Irving, Dr. Thayer of Portland.

Mrs. Bates was an exceptionally fine woman, educated, kind and lovely in every way. In her declining years she has been well preserved and in good health, has been on auto rides recently and enjoyed them as though much younger. Only the night before she was taken sick she attended a band concert. Tuesday morning, Aug. 12, she didn't get up as usual and Mrs. Edwards went to her room to see if there was any trouble and found that she had been stricken with paralysis in the whole of one side and her speech.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. Edwards and Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes attended. Interment in the Paris Hill Cemetery.

Perkins, where he was born on the farm where his parents, Chester D. and Mary Felt Fickett lived. He has always lived there with the exception of a few of these last years he lived by himself on the same road towards West Paris in a house which he built himself.

He married Lizzie Billings of Woodstock, who died a few years after their marriage. He is survived by his sister, Ellen, wife of H. Z. Perkins and a brother, Simeon A. Fickett of Rumford, several nieces and nephews and one aunt, Mrs. Juliette F. Curtis of West Paris. Mr. Fickett was a quiet, industrious man and respected by all who knew him. He was a member of the West Paris Lodge I. O. O. F.

Brakes Gave Out
Henry S. Stone of Stearns Hill, who is substitute on R. F. D. No. 1 had a bad auto accident while returning on his route Thursday afternoon. When on High Street near F. W. Waterhouse's home the universal in his car parted and his brakes became useless and he came down the hill at a terrific pace. He was afraid to try to make the bridge so turned into the mill yard and made for across the track to the base ball diamond, hoping there to stop, but when he entered the mill yard, one tire blew out entering the car to tip over three times with Mr. Stone in it. The car was badly broken up, especially the top but fortunately to relate Mr. Stone was only slightly injured.

ART OF BEING PLEASANT

A pleasant woman in the home is like a gleam of heaven's brightest sunshine. Her presence soothes, comforts and cheers the heart of man. Don't forget this, girls, when you get married. The only way to be pleasant is to make a study of the art; convert it into a science and study it as such. A woman who makes the meaning of love believe she knows not has for him a pleasant smile and a word of welcome, will find that tender thoughts of her are creeping down further into his heart; than those of the beauty whom she envies. Girls, you don't know what an effect continued pleasantness has upon a man. We would suggest to you to make a study of the art of being pleasant.

Unless you are an angel, and angels are scarce, someone is always roasting you behind your back.

Rapid changes are being made on the Fred E. Brown residence (Welch house) under the supervision of J. H. Stuart of South Paris. Partitions have been removed, large windows put in, a chimney added, large windows put in, a chimney added, moved, porches to replace piazzas and a new chimney to be put up for a large fireplace. Many other changes are contemplated before the residence is ready to occupy. The building will have about fifteen finished rooms.

Cole and brother, Harry V. Cole. Elizabeth Marberry is a native of Bethel, Me., and has been visiting in Norway for many years.

Jesse S. Allard and Howard E. Moulton arrived Saturday from a vacation of six weeks at Freedom, Conway, Walden, N. H. and other places. They were on the move every minute and called on many acquaintances. One of the notable features was a picnic on the summit of Mt. Kearsarge. While there Mr. Moulton talked with the Eliot Fuller Store in Norway from the tip-top house. The trip was put through in three minutes and to the surprise of the operator in charge. Three days later this house occupied by thirteen hikers was stuck by lightning, but nobody hurt, only the telephone was put out of commission.

Chas. S. Akers is feeling pretty good politically. He is drawing on a new Daves "Hell Maria" plan, the latest campaign hit in the middle west. A friend in Chicago sent this week a kind in town. If not in New England. Nothing trashy about it either, real to the hilt. It is the substance patterned after a nose warmer sold in country stores some seventy years ago. A detailed lining with absorbent pads for old kids and new kids alike. The price is a good republican should have a light smoke while hanging to a habit for a millionaire.

Uncle David Leblond of Watford has been in town visiting his son Eugene, taking in the sights. He called to a new his subscription and invited to press rooms who has last visit. Mr. Leblond enjoys good health and is not while passing through his 50th year.

The fence around Norway Pine Cemetery has been raised and pulled by Josiah Witham's crew.

Another change in the fair grounds elevating the vantage stage in front of the large grand stand for dressing room underneath. The past few years the formers have made their changes in the fair grounds. The time will be spent in Boston and in making alterations at Norway.
